TTPP Q&A's

The following is a list of questions TTPP participants and quota holders might have about their calendar year 2013 IRS Form 1099's and the answers. This list is not all-inclusive, but contains questions anticipated to be most frequently asked.

Note: Beginning with calendar year 2012 IRS reporting, the National Office will not generate and mail IRS Form 1099-G to producers if the total of all reportable payments for each TIN is less than $600. See Internal Revenue Code, Sections 6041(a) and 6041A(a).

Q1. What is TTPP?

A1. TTPP is a program created by the Fair and Equitable Tobacco Reform Act of 2004 (the Act) that became law on October 22, 2004. The Act terminated the tobacco marketing quota and price support programs. USDA, FSA, through TTPP, enters into contracts with eligible tobacco quota holders and producers to provide payments to help these quota holders and producers make the transition from a Federal regulated tobacco program to a free-market environment. TTPP is commonly known as the "tobacco buyout".

If you are an eligible tobacco quota holder, then your contract entitles you to receive total payments of $7 per pound of quota in 10 annual payments in FY's 2005 through 2014. If you are an eligible tobacco producer, then your contract entitles you to receive total payments of up to $3 per pound of quota in 10 equal annual payments in FY's 2005 through 2014.

To be eligible for TTPP, quota holders must have been the owners of farms with established 2004 basic marketing quotas on October 22, 2004. If you purchased a farm after this date, you will not be eligible to receive the quota holder payment.

Q2. What is a tobacco "producer"?

A2. A tobacco producer is an individual who planted and produced a tobacco crop on land under tobacco marketing quota program rules in 1 or more of the 2002, 2003, and 2004 marketing years.

- Q3. What is “quota” and who are “quota holders”?
- A3. Quota is defined as the pounds of tobacco allocated to a farm that can be grown and marketed from that farm. Quota holders are the landowners of the farm allocated a tobacco quota.
- Q4. I sold my TTPP contract. How will that affect my tax reporting?
- A4. You should consult a tax advisor for assistance in determining how the sale of your contract will affect your tax reporting. An IRS Form 1099 for the sale of the contract should be received from the company to whom you sold the contract. FSA only issues IRS Form 1099's for payments made by us.
- Q5. I have lost or did not receive my IRS Form 1099 for my 2013 tobacco payment. How can I get a replacement IRS Form 1099?
- A5. Replacement/corrected IRS Forms 1099-G, 1099-INT, 1099-OID, and 1099-S can be obtained by contacting FSA at 866-729-9705 and PRESS “1”, or by FAX at 816-823-1871. Starting with the 2012 tax year, according to Internal Revenue Code, Section 6041(a), IRS Form 1099-G will not be issued if your total FSA payments reported on IRS Form 1099-G are less than $600. If the taxpayer has questions about reporting the payments received that were under the $600 limit, they should consult the IRS web site at www.irs.gov or a tax advisor for reporting assistance.
- Q6. The taxpayer identification number, name, and/or address reflected on my 1099 are incorrect. How do I get this corrected?
- A6. Contact FSA at 866-729-9705 and PRESS “1”, or by FAX at 816-823-1871 to obtain a corrected 1099. Requests to issue corrected 1099's will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. In addition, ensure that the County Office has the correct information. If the information is incorrect, the County Office should update the information in SCIMS.
- Q7. What should I do with the 1099 I have already received after I receive a corrected 1099?
- A7. If a corrected 1099 is issued to you, verify all personal information is correct. After verification, your incorrect 1099 should be destroyed.

Q8. I am a tobacco producer. Why did I receive IRS Form 1099-G, and what is it?

A8. If you received tobacco payments as a producer from TTPP during 2013, you will receive a report of TTPP payments on IRS Form 1099-G. IRS requires FSA to report payments made to recipients of TTPP payments to IRS and to the recipient of the payment; in this case, tobacco producers. TTPP payments are shown as 1 line on IRS Form 1099-G and will be included with all other farm program payments reportable to IRS.

Starting with the 2012 tax year, according to Internal Revenue Code, Section 6041(a), IRS Form 1099-G will not be issued if your total FSA payments reported on IRS Form 1099-G are less than $600. If the taxpayer has questions about reporting the payments received that were under the $600 limit, they should consult the IRS web site at www.irs.gov or a tax advisor for reporting assistance.

Q9. Why did I receive IRS Form 1099-S, and what is it?

A9. IRS considers the quota holders' contract as a sale in the interest in land (real property) because tobacco quota was assigned to farms and; thus, attached to land. IRS Form 1099-S is used to report proceeds from real estate transactions, and the sale of a quota is considered a real estate transaction. IRS Form 1099-S will be issued to the quota holder in the year the original contract was signed and the first payment was received.

Q10. Why does the amount on my IRS Form 1099-S show the full contract value instead of the amount I was actually paid?

A10. Your IRS Form 1099-S reports the total gross value of your contract in the year you entered into the TTPP contract and received the first payment. There will be no additional IRS Form 1099-S issued to you for the life of the contract.

If the gross value of your contract was greater than $3,000, and less than or equal to $250,000, then the imputed interest on your contract will be reported on IRS Form 1099-INT. If your contract was approved in 2012, then you will receive IRS Form 1099-INT for payments made in 2014.

If the gross value of your contract was greater than $250,000, then the imputed interest on your contract will be reported on IRS Form 1099-OID for payments made in years 2013 and 2014.

Q11. Do I report the entire amount stated on my IRS Form 1099-S as income on my 2013 tax return?

A11. You should consult a tax advisor for assistance in determining how to report the proceeds from your TTPP contract on your 2013 tax return.

Certain information about this topic can be found in IRS Publication 225 (2013), "Farmer's Tax Guide" at <http://www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/p225.pdf>, Chapter 3, "Farm Income".

Q12. What is "imputed interest" and why is there a table listing imputed interest amounts on my IRS Form 1099-S?

A12. Imputed interest is a term used by IRS to describe interest considered to be paid, even though no explicit interest payments have or will be made. Imputed interest generally applies in circumstances involving installment sales or other deals involving delayed payments or future payments. In deals structured in this manner, IRS requires the part of the selling price representing interest on the delayed payments should be recognized as "imputed interest".

TTPP is structured to make payments over a 10-year period. IRS requires a portion of all or some of these payments to be treated as imputed interest.

Q13. How is the imputed interest amount displayed on my IRS Form 1099-S calculated?

A13. If the gross value of your contract was less than $3,000, then there is no interest component.

If the gross value of your contract was greater than $3,000, and less than or equal to $250,000, then the imputed interest on your contract was calculated under Internal Revenue Code, Section 483.

Notes: Under Internal Revenue Code, Section 483, interest is only calculated on payments issued more than 6 months from the date of contract approval and is calculated on a cash basis.

For a contract subject to Internal Revenue Code, Section 483, the tax rules to determine how to calculate your annual imputed interest are contained in Internal Revenue Code, Section 483 and Income Tax Regulations, Sections 1.482-1, 1.483-2, and 1.446-2.

A13. If the gross value of your contract was greater than $250,000, then the imputed interest on (Cntd) your contract was calculated under Internal Revenue Code, Section 1274.

Note: Under Internal Revenue Code, Section 1274, interest is calculated on all payments and is calculated on an accrual basis. For a contract subject to Internal Revenue Code, Section 1274, the tax rules to determine how to calculate your annual imputed interest are contained in Internal Revenue Code, Sections 1272 and 1274 and Income Tax Regulations, Sections 1.1274-1, 1.1274-2 (Example 1 of paragraph (h) contains the formula to present value of a payment), 1.1274-3, and 1.1272-1 (Example 1 of paragraph (j) provides formulas to compute accruals of original issue discount).

You should consult the IRS web site at www.irs.gov or a tax advisor for assistance in understanding the application of Internal Revenue Code, Sections 483 and 1274.

Q14. How do I report backup withholding on my tax return?

A14. Contact a qualified tax advisor or call the IRS at the number provided in subparagraph 2 B.

Q15. What is Internal Revenue Code, Section 483? Why was my contract subject to Internal Revenue Code, Section 483?

A15. Internal Revenue Code, Section 483 applies to any payments stemming from the sale or exchange of property that are due more than 6 months after the date of sale or exchange.

If the gross value of your contract was greater than $3,000, and less than or equal to $250,000, then the imputed interest on your contract was calculated under Internal Revenue Code, Section 483.

You should consult the IRS web site at www.irs.gov or a tax advisor for assistance in understanding the application of Internal Revenue Code, Section 483.

Q16. What is Internal Revenue Code, Section 1274? Why was my contract subject to Internal Revenue Code, Section 1274?

A16. Internal Revenue Code, Section 1274 applies to any payments stemming from the sale or exchange of property that are due more than 6 months after the date of sale or exchange. If the gross value of your contract was greater than $250,000, then the imputed interest on your contract was calculated under Internal Revenue Code, Section 1274.

You should consult the IRS web site at www.irs.gov or a tax advisor for assistance in understanding the application of Internal Revenue Code, Section 1274.

Q17. Will I receive IRS Form 1099-S for 2013 and future years?

A17. If you signed a contract in 2013, you will receive IRS Form 1099-S in 2013, but not for future years.

If you signed a contract in 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, or 2012, you will not receive IRS Form 1099-S for 2013 or future years. Depending on the gross value of your contract, you may receive IRS Form 1099-INT or 1099-OID for 2013 and future years.

If the gross value of your contract was greater than $3,000, and less than or equal to $250,000, then the imputed interest on your contract will be reported on IRS Form 1099-INT. If your contract was approved in 2012, then you will receive IRS Form 1099-INT for payments made in 2014.

If the gross value of your contract was greater than $250,000, the imputed interest on your contract will be reported on IRS Form 1099-OID. You will receive IRS Form 1099-OID for payments made in years 2013 and 2014.

Q18. What is IRS Form 1099-OID? Why did I receive IRS Form 1099-OID?

A18. OID is the excess of your contract's gross value over its present value. IRS Form 1099-OID shows the amount of your TTPP contract that is considered imputed interest and may need to be reported on your tax return. An IRS Form 1099-OID is issued for quota holder contracts whose total value exceeds $250,000, and who fall under Internal Revenue Code, Section 1274. OID may be taxable as interest over the life of the obligation. If you are the holder of an OID obligation, then you may be required to include an amount of OID in your gross income each year you hold the obligation.

You should consult the IRS web site at www.irs.gov or a tax advisor for assistance in understanding the tax reporting requirements for IRS Form 1099-OID.

Q19. Why was I given an imputed interest schedule for all years of my contract on IRS Form 1099-S, and will I still receive an annual IRS Form 1099-INT or 1099-OID in future years?

A19. FSA is providing imputed interest information at the beginning of the contract period to help taxpayers understand the future portion of payments that should be treated as interest. IRS Forms 1099-INT and 1099-OID will be mailed to you annually throughout the life of your contract.

You should consult the IRS web site at www.irs.gov or a tax advisor for assistance in understanding the tax reporting requirements for IRS 1099-INT and 1099-OID.

Q20. Why is the IRS Form 1099-INT or 1099-OID amount in 2013 different than the imputed interest amount referenced on my IRS Form 1099-S?

A20. In 2010, updates were made to the computer application that calculates the imputed interest amount. The imputed interest schedule on your IRS Form 1099-S used a constant date of January 15 for each year a payment would be made for a contract. In 2010, FSA began using the actual payment date to calculate imputed interest.

Q21. Will a corrected IRS Form 1099-INT or 1099-OID be issued for the 2013 tax year because of the difference in imputed interest?

A21. There will not be a corrected IRS Form 1099-INT or 1099-OID issued for the difference. However, if the imputed interest amount is over $600 and the difference is great, FSA will review. Contact FSA by telephone at 866-729-9705 and PRESS "1", or by FAX at 816-823-1871 and FSA will review.

Q22. In 2013, I had backup withholding withheld from my TTPP payment. How will this be reported to the IRS on my IRS Form 1099?

A22. If backup withholding was withheld from a quota payment in 2013, the amount withheld will be reported on IRS Form 1099-INT or 1099-OID, Box 4.
